

There is nothing wrong with Honolulu. Our troubles spring from a lack of business ability. All Honolulu needs is the same business training that is used in private enterprises. Despite the fact that Honolulu is the largest corporation in the Islands we have been content to have it conducted by men who are lacking in business experience. These men mean well enough, but that is no reason why we should turn a delicately constructed and expensive automobile over to a man whose only training has been in running a freight elevator. Put a trained hand at the wheel of government. The voter of Honolulu insists that all parts of Honolulu be considered in the conduct of its affairs. He wants to know how the people's money is spent and he wants it spent with the same care that the money of a private enterprise is spent. The day of the political fund is past. Municipalities are like great corporations and every man who has a vote is a stockholder and every stockholder insists that the affairs of the city be conducted without waste and with substantial dividends.

HILO BUSINESSMEN PRAISE GARDEN CONTEST ON STAR-BULLETIN PLAN

Citizens of Big Island Get Busy to Increase Home Production

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.) HILO, Hawaii, May 6.—High praise was given to the Star-Bulletin's school farm contest, at a meeting of the Board of Trade trustees this week when the problem of food production was taken up in detail.

That something should be done at once to increase the food production of the island of Hawaii and that the Board of Trade of Hilo take up the matter at once, was the opinion of the trustees of the board who met for their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon last.

The trustees took up the matter and discussed it from many angles. It was easily seen that it was the desire of the directors to have the board of trade take up the matter with keenness and get busy on the whole proposition.

Redfield Writes

When a letter from Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce was read to the board it was followed by the statement that something should be done in the matter. Mr. D. McH. Forbes declared that there was plenty of available land that could be planted with vegetables and other crops, such as beans and corn. He named that tract of land, that is known as Lincoln Park and which is not used for any purpose much now-a-days. He said that there must be at least one and one-half acres of land in the tract and that it would be an ideal place to make a start at raising foodstuffs. Mr. Forbes also pointed out that there is a good piece of land near the Hilo Boarding School and that it has been fertilized a great deal with stable manure. The land would soon raise crops that would help out. Committee Appointed President G. H. Vicars, upon a motion which was carried, appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. D. McH. Forbes, H. J. Lyman and E. B. Bridgewater, to take up the whole matter, see the supervisors and find out what can be done to put more land under cultivation for food supplies.

The committee is leaving no grass growing under its feet and as Messrs. Forbes and Bridgewater were successful in their association with the gardening contest conducted by the Honolulu Star-Bulletin recently, they are in a better position than most people to achieve results through the new proposition as now outlined.

Star-Bulletin Praised

During the course of the discussion on the subject, Mr. E. F. Nichols stated that he thought the Star-Bulletin scheme an excellent one and that it had taught the children to garden and raise vegetables while still retaining the nature of being at play and amusing themselves. He thought that hundreds of youngsters had learned a lot from the garden contest and he declared that the experience had been an excellent one for everybody.

Advocates Prohibition

Mr. Nichols spoke on the shortage of the grain crops in the United States and said that there should be national prohibition during the war as so much of the grain that is needed for food is converted into booze of all kinds.

LEADERS OF PACIFIC RACES WILL SEEK MEANS OF AIDING COMMISSION

Plans Will Be Discussed at Lunch Tomorrow and Pavilion's Use Offered

At the Pan-Pacific luncheon tomorrow to the leaders of the different races in Hawaii, who speak English fluently, besides Director J. M. Westgate of the experiment station, chairman of the food commission, J. D. Dole, and others will outline to those gathered in the Lanikahe theater just how they may help spread the message to their people, instructing them from time to time as to their duties toward Hawaii as indicated by the food commission.

While it stands, the Pan-Pacific pavilion on Bishop square will be placed at the disposal of the food commission, and the agricultural experts, either as an exhibition hall or for the giving of food conservation talks in different languages and for demonstration work.

It called upon the Pan-Pacific workers will seek to provide speakers and instructors in the different languages spoken in Hawaii, or cooperate in any way that it may be asked by the food commission.

There is no set program for tomorrow's meeting, those gathered from the different races who speak and understand English, though they will endeavor to carry out among their people any plans and suggestions that are approved by the food commission, and will pledge themselves to be ready to assist in organizing their people in any work they are called upon to perform for Hawaii.

May Make Inter-Racial Survey

Director Westgate will briefly tell those present what crops may be planted each month in Hawaii, and which crops may be useful because of their keeping qualities, and which would be a waste of time to raise except in small quantities for the reason that the harvested produce cannot be kept for any length of time. It is proposed to make, perhaps, an inter-racial survey of everything planted by the different races, that advice may be given.

The meeting will be turned over to the members of the food commission and every effort will be made by the Pan-Pacific workers to become aware that will fit in and work with any plan adopted by this commission.

Among those who have signified their intention of being present are: J. D. Dole, R. D. Williams, A. L. Dean, W. R. Castle, W. D. Westervelt, W. F. Frear, R. H. Allan, J. E. Cobb, E. C. Matheson, Maj. ## MAUI'S MOST SUCCESSFUL AMATEUR PLAY IS PLEASING TO BIG AUDIENCE

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.) WAILUKU, Maui, May 6.—By far the most successful amateur play ever given on Maui was that presented last Saturday evening by the Women's Aid Society of Wailuku Union church at the Town Hall. The play was Barrie's "The Twelve Pound Look" and was staged under the direction of Mrs. Helen Mar Linton. An unusual interest was taken in this first play staged by Mrs. Linton in Wailuku, because of the dramatic classes that she has been conducting for several weeks in Paia and Wailuku. The members of these classes have been most enthusiastic in reading of modern plays, so that the first of any of these plays to be staged here attracted a great deal of attention.

The prologue to the play of Saturday was read by Mrs. Linton who closed by calling for a toast to Sir J. M. Barrie. The stage setting was artistic and the players took their part so well under Mrs. Linton's training that they had the appearance of professionals. Jack Moir, who had never spoken in public before, astonished every one by his ease and perfect poise, as well as by his appreciation of the part he took as Sir Harry Sims. Gwendolin von Tempky, who also had not had much training for the stage, was perfect as Lady Sims. She won her audience immediately. The difficult part of "The Twelve Pound Look" was played by Mrs. Rosanne Harbold, who appeared before a Maui audience for the first time. She had perfect command of herself and for so difficult a part could not have been more at ease. Barton J. Bridgford made an excellent butler.

Living pictures occupied the first part of the evening's program, while a dance and a final living picture of Columbia with the singing of "America" closed the program, which was much enjoyed by those present. Had the evening not been one of the rainiest for months, the Town Hall would have been crowded, as it was a large audience was present, making the evening highly successful.

The numbers of the program aside from the play were as follows:

Living Pictures
Whistler's Mother.....James McNeill Whistler
"Try This on Your Elbow".....Howard Chandler Christy
Plea for Arbitration.....
"Fashions".....Sir Joshua Reynolds
Innocence.....Sir Joshua Reynolds
"A Heart to Heart Talk".....Lester Ralph
Hour of Decision.....Lester Ralph
"Nobody Works but Father".....Le Brun
Mother and Daughter.....Le Brun
"Nectar for the Gods".....Bodenhausen
Nids.....Bodenhausen

Dance
Pavlova Gavotte, waltz
By Rosanne Harbold and A. Snyder
Finale—Living Picture of Columbia
Audience all join in singing "America"

MAUI CHILDREN'S GARDENS BEGUN WITH ENTHUSIASM

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.) WAILUKU, Maui, May 6.—There is a strong likelihood that the children's gardens department of the Maui county fair and racing association may soon be incorporated in the territory-wide food conservation plan which is now in process of working out. Following the suggestion of the commercial bodies, the army, and the sugar planters' association, the legislature in its closing hours made provision for what will be one of the most powerful territorial bodies ever created.

Maui Making Good Progress

The work of the children's gardens department under Director Mathews is making great progress. Committees in all parts of the county are organizing rapidly. Mr. Mathews says, and he is greatly pleased at the enthusiasm with which the work is being undertaken. This is particularly true among teachers, he states. At Camp 1, the land has been broken by the plantation which is to be used by the children. At Kanuui a strip of land in the school yard has been plowed. Rev. Pleasant, head of the Kahului committee having made this progress in the past few days.

Dr. Baldwin, head of the Hailu district committee, has been busy getting a tract of land fenced and within a short time it will be ready for seed. A large number of other gardens will be made throughout the homesteads under Dr. Baldwin's direction.

Scouts to Start Seed Beds

In Wailuku, Director Mathews has made arrangements for the boy scouts to plant seeds of all transplantable vegetables in seed beds and boxes, and as soon as these plants are sufficiently grown, they will be distributed to the children. A large supply of boxes or flats have already been made, and when the seed ordered arrives tomorrow, planting will be at once started.

Seeds of beans, peas, and other plants which do not take kindly to transplanting, will be distributed to the children direct, as soon as they have their gardens ready. Plants of lettuce, onions, cabbage, tomatoes, egg-plant, etc., will be distributed as soon as the scouts can produce them.

The idea of having this work done by the boy scouts is that a tremendous saving of seed will be effected, and with the scarcity of seed now prevalent this is a big item.
